Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati LLP Captures the Coveted LLM, Literae Magisters (Masters of Literacy) Award at the 2nd Annual Lawyers For Literacy Trivia Challenge

WASHINGTON, DC (November 19, 2008) – Thirteen teams from the region’s most well respected law firms and companies competed in Everybody Wins! DC’s Lawyers For Literacy Trivia Challenge on Tuesday, November 18, 2008. The Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati LLP outpaced the crowd to earn the title of LLM “Litterae Magister” (Master of Literacy) 2008 at the Lawyers For Literacy Trivia Challenge

The winning team from Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati LLP captured the coveted championship title in their second year participating in the event. The 2nd place winner was from the event sponsoring law firm of Kirkland & Ellis LLP (Appellate Team). Rounding out the top three was the team from Troutman Sanders/Ross, Dixon & Bell, LLP.

“This event brings together some of the brightest and most dedicated minds in the area for an evening of fun and trivia. The underserved students we serve benefit from this event in two ways- the funds raised for the event go directly into the programs and many of the participating groups become Power Lunch Partners” explains Executive Director Mary Salander.

Thank you to all the groups who sponsored and participated in the event: Kirkland & Ellis LLP; Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP; Sidley Austin; Troutman Sanders/Ross, Dixon & Bell, LLP; Morrison & Forester; White & Case LLP; Wilson Sonsini Goodrich and Rosati; Kilpatrick Stockton; Weil Gotshal; and Washington Metropolitan Area Corporate Counsel Association.

Quizzomaster Neal Racioppo hosted the trivia challenge and provided great entertainment for the evening. The trivia questions were a blend of general knowledge, sports, pop culture, and of course, literacy.

The Lawyers For Literacy Trivia Challenge was made possible through the generous sponsorship provided by Kirkland & Ellis LLP.
